ABOUT CPF

Centre for People's Forestry is a professional NGO working in community forestry in the State of Andhra Pradesh and Orissa. It also plans to initiate works in Jharkhand in the near future. It was registered as a Public Trust in 2002, prior to which it belonged to the JFM wing of Centre for World Solidarity. CPF, as an organisation, came into existence to make the deserving forest dwelling/dependent communities realise their entitlements within the framework of forest policies, especially the 1988. CPF strives to develop and ground sustainable forest management mechanisms for enhancing livelihood security of the marginalised sections, especially women, tribals, Dalits and other resource poor among these communities. Placing livelihood enhancement of the communities affront in all its initiatives, CPF has been identifying and attending to the specific needs of the communities and NGOs in its working areas.

AUTHOR'S NOTE

Poverty Learning Foundation is grateful to the Centre for Peoples' Forestry (CPF) and SDTT for this assignment and continuous guidance throughout the study period.

Dr. Suryakumari (Director, CPF), Dr. Urmila Pingle (Managing Trustee, CPF), and Sri C.Vasu (Senior Programme Officer-SL, CPF) provided timely insight into log-frame outcome areas and indicators and rendered support during the initial phase of the study. Comments on several methodological issues from Sri Bhaskar Mittra from SDTT have been very useful.

Last, but not the least, the study team places on record its deep sense of gratitude to the sample communities and households for all the valuable information. The team thanks the field functionaries of CPF, CONARE and CHRD for help and support during the field study.
